Modular Marketing understands the difficulty you may have in trying to find a buyer for your used construction trailer, modular classroom building, modular office building or any other type of mobile or modular building. Finding a potential buyer for your building could turn out to be a long process. With this in mind, let us help you re-market your available building by posting it on our website. In addition to our direct mail and phone campaigns, we network with several dealers, manufacturers and vendors throughout the United States. If you are interested in letting people, schools and companies know about your available building, call us at (800)550-7702 or contact us to find out how we can assist you in selling your used building.
